Due to the nature of the vintage clothing industry and our limited mark up on wholesale orders, all wholesale sales are final and non-refundable. If you have questions about the product please make sure to talk with one of our wholesale experts for all necessary information. There may be some damage as some of the pieces can be very old, so all merchandise is sold in 'as is' condition. We do not accept returns but should we decide to make an exception there will be a 20% restocking fee and purchaser is responsible for all shipping charges.

Shipping is the responsibility of the buyer. The cost is a product of weight, number of boxes, their dimensions and content. We will do our best to accommodate any shipping requirements you have as well as using our list of shipping vendors to determine the least expensive and quickest way to get your order delivered.
